

Press Release: Antaeon Solutions Joins Heitmeyer Consulting

Columbus, OH – February 16, 2022

Heitmeyer Consulting is pleased to announce the integration of Antaeon Solutions, LLC into the Heitmeyer Consulting team. Based in Dallas TX, Antaeon was formed in 1997 with Randy Ripple and Jim Kemp as the principals. Over the years they have provided consultative services to the Financial Services industry with a special focus on Trust/Wealth Management, Payments, Process Optimization, as well as leadership and organizational design. This focus blends well with Heitmeyer's expertise in Financial Services, while broadening the offerings of the combined firm.

During the last 20 years Heitmeyer and Antaeon have partnered together on several initiatives to deliver solutions to clients and have built a strong understanding and appreciation for each other's businesses.

"I have known Randy and Jim both personally and professionally for over 20 years. I have the utmost respect for them and the Company they have built over the years. We are excited to deepen our relationship as we come together as a single Company." – Norm Heitmeyer, Founder, Heitmeyer Consulting

"Antaeon becoming part of the Heitmeyer family strengthens our consulting services offerings as well as the collective real-world experience that the firm possess in banking and the overall financial services sector. We are extremely happy to have Randy and Jim on board and I'm confident they will provide value to our existing and prospective client partners." – Jason Mathews, President, Heitmeyer Consulting

"After 25 years, we are excited to be combining Antaeon Solutions with Heitmeyer Consulting. We feel our clients will benefit from the expanded services we are now able to offer. And at the same time, our clients will continue to receive the personalized service they have enjoyed over the past 25 years." – Randy Ripple, Principal, Antaeon Solutions, LLC
